Fish

The first object is fish because it is a special food for many people, and because fishing is special people's occupation, which lives next to Danube River.

Song

The second object is a song because many songs of Bulgarian folk art sung Danube's river greatness.

Fortress

The third object is a photo of fortress. Baba Vida is a medieval fortress in Vidin in northwestern Bulgaria and the town's primary landmark. It consists of two fundamental walls and four towers and is said to be the only entirely preserved medieval castle in the country. The construction of the fortress began in the 10th century at the place of an Ancient Roman watchtower. The building of Baba Vida is tied to a legend, according to which a Danubian Bulgarian king who ruled at Vidin, the eldest was given Vidin and the lands north to the Carpathians, Kula was awarded Zajecar and the Timok Valley, and Gamza was to rule the lands west up to the Morava. Vida remained unmarried and built the fortress in her city. The name of the castle means branny Vida.

I am proud of history this fortress, because Baba Vida strong hold stood an eight-month-long siege by Byzantine forces. The fortress played a significant role during the Ottoman rule of Bulgaria, serving as a weapon were house and a prison, as it has been no longer used for defensive purposes since the end of the 18th century. Today Baba Vida is a fortress-museum, where finds and intelligence about as history are kept. Being a popular tourist attraction, the fortress was restored to its former appearance.

When I get up to something of tower, the view is impressive. The river Danube follows-grace-its road way and I am happiest person.
